PA NEWC OBSERVES

One place where the city loses money on the parking meters is where a big trailer truck, which takes up the space of two and sometimes three regular cars. Pa Newc noted one such outfit on Mercer street, which parked there the greater part of the day.

State Highway employees yesterday were painting the road signs throughout the city. The lettering on the sign faces were retouched which stands out now quite distinctly.

Robinson street certainly got a strong dose of road oil, we don't think it ought to get dusty for several years. A black streak can be seen along West Washington street for quite a distance, leading from Robinson street, in either direction.

A little boy came along the latter street, crossed Washington St to his home, and made several bad "impressions" on the carpet which caused mama some extra work cleaning up.

Owen Penfield Fox, city forester, reports this morning, that vandalism was perpetrated at the Comfort Station Park plot, on Water street, last evening.

Quite a number of beautiful dark pink peonies were stolen from the flower beds, also some pink roses.

Attention is called to these vandals of the fact that the city officials have a standing award offered for the apprehension of any person, committing such depredations.

Officer William G. Smith of the city police force, report to this writer, that he saw this week, a pure white albino robin, at the West Side play ground.

There have been quite a number of white robins reported seen in the city, this spring. These birds are "freaks", and should be given the utmost protection.

The white feathers in these birds are caused by the disappearing of the color pigment in the blood.

Search Home Of Late Recluse For Hoarded Wealth

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 4.—A search began today for the thousands of dollars in diamonds, antiques and securities believed to have been hoarded by George Heidegar, 78, a recluse who hanged himself in his shabby home on the north side.

A nephew said Heidegar lived in solitude for the past three years and that his uncle had told him he had $25,000 worth of diamonds and securities in a safe deposit vault. A check for more than $100 in rent was found on the suicide's body.

Hartland Bail Fixed By Court

$10,000 Set As Bail In Charge Of Misappropriation Of Funds

TOTAL BAIL IS NOW $17,500

At a conference between Judge W. Walter Braham and attorneys for Joseph H. Hartland, former county treasurer, Friday afternoon, bond in the sum of $10,000 was fixed by the court for his appearance to answer charges of misapplication of funds collected for specific purposes. Hartland had previously been held in bail in the sum of $12,500 by Alderman L. C. Mantz, after the additional charge of misapplication of funds had been placed against him Thursday afternoon by County Detective Paul A. Welsh.

Hartland had been unable to procure bond by noon today and is being held in the county jail until bond approved by the court is furnished. His total bail on all charges placed against him is now $17,500.

Specific charges of misapplication of funds was placed against Hartland by County Detective Welsh Thursday as outlined in Friday's News. The instances charge the taking of $2,000 from the beer license fund on November 6, 1936, and placing it in other accounts; the taking of $5,000 on February 3, 1937, from the gasoline fund to conceal shortages; the transfer of $4,411.03 of school and road taxes into the gasoline fund to conceal shortages on March 6, 1937, and the transfer of $793.72 of additional school and road taxes on March 27, 1937.

It is understood that Mr. Hartland is now making an effort to secure bond to procure his release from confinement, but as the court house closed at noon today, it is likely that he will have to spend the week-end in jail, he having failed to procure bond today.

Strikers Picket Each Other As Disagreement Complicates Situation

BAKERY STRIKE STILL UNSETTLED

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 4.—A sharp disagreement between operators of inter-city motor freight line operators today complicated the strike of their drivers.

The disagreement occurred between the labor relations division of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association, Inc., and its affiliate, the Western Pennsylvania Motor Conference. The labor relations division of the state organization charged the Western Pennsylvania truckers with refusing to adhere to an agreement with the union negotiated by the state group. This the local truckers promptly denied with a

In the last protest, Britain warned "drastic measures" would be taken if Generalissimo Francisco Franco's airplanes continued to bomb British cargo vessels. Franco promised preventive measures.

Within the last fortnight three British ships have been destroyed in Valencia port.

Father Despairs Of Finding Child

Parent Believes Five Year Old Son Has Been Murdered By Kidnapers

TWENTY G-MEN ON SECRET TRIP

(International News Service)

MIAMI, Fla., June 4.—"I have given up all hopes of finding the child alive."

With this terse sentence, spoken in a quavering voice, the father of kidnaped 5-year-old Jimmy Cash, Jr., today revealed that he and his wife have surrendered to the conviction already expressed by officers—that the abductors had killed their little victim rather than run the risk of returning him alive.

But even as he voiced his hopelessness of ever seeing his child alive, the father, who paid $10,000 ransom in vain, predicted an early solution to the case.

"I feel confident we will find the kidnapers and possibly the body of the child before a week or ten days," he told the reporters.

Approximately 20 G-men in two automobiles sped to Ft. Lauderdale, about 15 miles from here, early today on a mysterious mission which immediately revived rumors of an early break in the kidnaping of five and one-half year old James Bailey Cash, Jr.

From Ft. Lauderdale, it was reported the federal agents were concentrating on the "back bay" region two miles south of that city, a vast swamp area which contains some 500 small, uninhabited islands suitable for a criminal hideout.

It could not be learned whether J. Edgar Hoover, F. B. I. chief, was among the men rushed to Ft. Lau-

Confidence Men Being Hunted

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 4.—Police today were on the lookout for two confidence men who fleeced Cornelius Concelman of $1,000 with a slight variation of the old "bunco" game.

The men told Concelman an uncle in Texas left them $16,000 to be distributed to Pittsburgh's poor. They promised Concelman $3,000 for helping them distribute the money but first asked him to put up $1,000 as evidence of his good faith. They put his money and theirs in two brown paper bags and switched bags. When Concelman got his back it was stuffed with stage money.

Donald Carroll Will Be Freed, Is Found Sane

Young "Puppy Love" Slayer Of Charlotte Matthiesen Released From Hospital

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 4.—Sixteen-year-old Donald Carroll, admitted slayer of his 'teen-age sweetheart, today was ordered released from the psychiatric division of Bellevue hospital and sent to Queens county prison from which he will be formally discharged.

An all-male jury recently found Donald not guilty, by reason of insanity, on a murder indictment charging him with the killing of Charlotte Matthiesen, 16, in an uncompleted suicide pact. The qualified verdict necessitated the boy's detention under observation in Bellevue until today.

Lost His Nerve

Donald freely admitted shooting the girl, but declared it was at her wish when she learned she was to become a mother. He intended to kill himself also, the boy told police, but "lost his nerve". Parents of the dead girl have befriended Donald since Charlotte was slain three months ago.

Young Carroll grinned and munched a bar of chocolate when he left Bellevue this morning in a prison van for the Queens county jail. Somewhat pale, but cheerful, the lad said he was "tickled to death" over his release as sane from the hospital.

That senate-house conferees would reach a speedy agreement upon the relief bill was conceded by all. With the administration in full control of the conference, rapid adjustment of all differences between senate and house bills was believed certain.

Making Progress

Senate and house managers on the wage-hours bill were reported to be making progress in reconciling the differences between house and senate measures.

Guffey Denies Endorsement Of Jones And Earle

Dove Of Peace Still Eludes Democratic Leaders In Pennsylvania

MATTHEW M'CLOSKEY WON'T BE OUSTED

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—Hopes for an early reconciliation between still-warring factions of the Democratic party today appeared to have faded following denial by Senator Guffey that he had endorsed the Earle-Jones Democratic slate for the November election.

In a letter from Washington to 67 county chairmen, Senator Guffey declared "unauthorized" statements that he had promised to support Governor George H. Earle, for the senate and Charles Alvin Jones, party gubernatorial candidate.

Guffey's action followed refusal of Matthew McCloskey, Philadelphia contractor and Democratic finance committee chairman, to be ousted from the party leadership. The ouster was the reported price of peace between the regular organization and the defeated Guffey-CIO forces of the primary campaign. ..

Edenburg Man Given Stiff Sentence On Charge Of False Pretense

W. R. McGraw of the Edenburg district was given a stiff sentence when he appeared in court this morning to be be sentenced on charges of obtaining goods by false pretense.

There were three counts against McGraw, the prosecutors being Marie C. Mrozek, Clyde V. Hannaker and Paul A. Welsh.

McGraw made a plea for leniency, but after hearing the testimony of the district attorney's office and the sheriff that McGraw's operations had been carried out over a number of years, that his father had frequently made good sums of money which the accused had secured through false pretense; and that he was out on parole on a similar charge elsewhere and had neglected to comply with a court order on desertion and non-support charges, the court was not inclined to show McGraw any clemency.

He was sentenced to pay the costs in the case and undergo imprisonment in the Allegheny county workhouse for a period of 18 months on each of the three charges, the sentences to run concurrently.

In the case of the commonwealth vs Emery McFarland, Jr., charged with assault and battery, assault and surety of the peace, the charges of assault and battery were dismissed and he gave bond in the sum of $300 to keep the peace. The court con-

500 Chinese Die In Mass Bombing By Jap Aviators

City Reduced To Shambles As Bombers Strew Death On Populace

JAPAN HEEDLESS OF CONDEMNATION

Chinese Troops Claim Advantage On Central Front Near Luiy

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, June 4.—Japan, with deadly scorn, today replied to America's condemnation of civilian bombings by showering the week's third rain of death on Canton.

More than 500 were killed, according to official Chinese estimates, and 1000 were wounded. The week's toll of civilian life in the crowded South China metropolis now stands at 1100.

Adding to the loss of life and the immense destruction, incendiary bombs dropped by thirty Japanese planes started huge fires which spread through the poorer sections of Canton.

Huge Air Fleet

The big air fleet roared in from naval bases at sea and began their attack at 10.45 a. m. The raid was said to be the worst so far in the year's Sino-Japanese war.

Some of the planes, ignoring previous protests against such tactics, power-dived over the international settlement area of Shameen before releasing their high explosive missiles on the Chinese quarters.

Reports from the raid area said the Canton region was reduced to havoc by the assault, especially the vicinities of the Chinese government offices, Central Park and the Taishatao station.

The Japanese bombs dropped continuously for 35 minutes, it was stated.

A previous rain of Japanese bombs on Canton killed fifty persons and caused widespread damage. Eight planes participated in this raid, which lasted an hour and a half. It was believed about 200 were wounded.

Near Station

Most of the victims were found near the Taishatao station, where thousands of refugees are housed.

On the central Chinese front, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's troops were claimed to have engineered a successful counter-assault against a large Japanese force advancing west from Luiy.

Japanese advices, however, also

Dixie Bloc Offers Compromise

Will Agree To Wage-Hours Bill

Offer To Break Deadlock If Freight Rates Are Equalized

CLAIM SAVINGS WILL OFFSET PAY RAISES

By ROBERT A. McGILL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 4.—A surprise proposal designed to break the deadlock between the north and south over pay differentials in the wage-hours bill was placed before senate and house conferees today by the congressional southern bloc.

Withdraw Demands

Southern members informed the joint conference committee they would withdraw demands for differentials provided uniform freight rates between the north and south are written into the wage and hour legislation.

One member of the southern bloc said privately the compromise proposal has already been tentatively accepted by the 14 conferees, although details of the freight rate amendment have not yet been discussed.

Simultaneously, several conferees raised the question whether congress had the power to write freight rate schedules into wage-hour legislation in view of the authority over railroads vested in the Interstate Commerce Commission.

It was reported, however, that senate southern members of the conference committee have conferred with I. C. C. officials and are prepared to present details of the plan when the conferees convene again today.

The southern conferees argued that if southern industry could be assured of abolition of discriminatory freight rates over similar routes the money saved would more than compensate for the cost of complying with a wage-hours bill.

STATE WILL BUILD NEW HARRIS BRIDGE

in the next few weeks according to Mr. Shaw and there is a possibility that actual construction will start before the end of July.

Some slight change will be made in angle at which the bridge crosses. The old Harris bridge was constructed back in the 80's and was built to accommodate nothing much heavier than a load of hay. It was not necessary to build curved approaches necessary for automotive traffic.

The bridge crosses the Slippery Rock creek in one of the most scenic spots. It also taps a coal mining district and a rich farming community. Since the bridge was destroyed it has been necessary to detour a long way around with farm produce and coal.

Recently a petition was presented to the state highway department signed by about 300 residents in the lower end of the county, asking that a new bridge be built.

CHICAGO, June 4.—Frederick B. Snite, Jr., 27-year-old infantile paralysis sufferer who has spent the past 26 months in an "iron lung", entered Billings hospital here today for observation following a train trip from Florida.

The Snite entourage, which included the young man's parents, five nurses, and physicians, made the trip in three special cars hooked on to the Dixie Limited. When the train reached Chicago, Snite was rolled in his machine onto a truck and then driven to the hospital.

After ten days at the hospital, Snite will be removed to his parents' home here for the summer. In the fall he will return to Florida for the winter months.

statement asserting they could not operate at a profit and grant the union demands for a wage boost.

The disagreement also precipitated a "strike within a strike." The 57 operators who refused to sign contracts were picketing the five lines which did while the drivers were in turn picketing the holdouts.

Meanwhile, little progress was reported in the attempt to end the strike of bakery drivers which has closed 35 bakeries here.

Both sides reported they were standing firm on their demands. John A. Moffett, a conciliator for the U. S. Labor Department, arrived here and was attempting to arrange a joint conference. Little shortage of bread and bakery products was reported.

CONGRESS HOPES TO QUIT SATURDAY

agreed upon within a few days by the conferees that the senate today was in recess until Tuesday noon.

With the far-flung relief bill finally passed last night by the senate, the only major issue remaining in the way of adjournment of congress was the wage-hours measure.

Remaining on the tentative agenda for final passage before adjournment were a resolution to provide for a comprehensive investigation of monopolistic trends in industry and finance, and a bill to revise the bankruptcy laws.

Barkley Confident

Senate majority leader Barkley of Kentucky expressed confidence that congress would call it quits by the end of next week. He said comparatively minor bills would be acted upon by the senate while it awaited the senate-house conference reports on the relief and wage-hour measure.

Despite this optimism of President Roosevelt's lieutenants on Capitol Hill there was a band of Republicans and conservative Democrats who contended the battle over wage-hours legislation was far from over.

In the final showdown on the relief-recovery bill, administration forces bowled over anti-new dealers ruthlessly. Old-line Democrats and Republicans, who had been vocal in opposition to major features of the bill, fell far short of modifying it.

In a final session on the measure that continued until 11:45 p. m., opposition forces were beaten in every attempt to effect major earmarking in the bill, or to restrict the power of President Roosevelt in administering the spend-and-lend program. The final vote on passage was 60 to 10. During the long night session the anti-new dealers made their chief target of attack alleged politics in the relief administration.

There is enough water in the "back bay" swamps to permit a search by launches and power boats and it appeared certain boats would be used in any attempt to search the islands.

The few federal men left here, as well as police, could not or would not explain the activity at Ft. Lauderdale.

It seemed certain, however, that the early morning activity resulted from an entirely new development in the investigation, for before he retired, Hoover conferred with his men, then told reporters:

"I don't think there will be any further developments tonight. I am going to rest."

Judge Stephen indicated he would rule on the matter of the much-discussed portrait of the actress next Monday.

The bride was attired in a blue lace redingote with yellow accessories and wore a corsage of roses and sweet peas. The couple was unattendd.

Mr. and Mrs. Eakin left immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, Washington, D. C., and other points of interest. Upon their return they will reside on Pearl street, Sharon. Mr. Eakin is affiliated there with Rom's Wholesale House. Mrs. Eakin was employed by the New Castle Dry Goods company.

Both are graduates of New Castle high school, he in the class of '31, and she in the class of '33.

OUR MOTHER FAIR WESTMINSTER

FOR the 84th time Westminster college prepares for the peak of its collegiate year, commencement. Cloaked in tradition, invested with the dignity of the years, commencement is always new; new not only to the graduate who has just finished his college course, but to the alumnus who, coming back to the tree shaded campus recaptures his youth, his ambitions and his ideals.

This year's commencement is an epochal one for old Westminster. A magnificent library will be dedicated, the class is the largest ever to be graduated, and from every indication this commencement marks a step forward towards an even better Westminster college.

Crowning the May Queen, the alumni dinners, the senior sing, the all-college party, the baccalaureate sermon, the commencement exercises, the granting of honorary degrees, all of them colorful, all of them an unforgettable part of commencement.

Many of Westminster's distinguished sons and daughters will return for this year's commencement exercises. For many of them it will be the first time since the day they received their diplomas. For others it will be reunion time, five, ten, fifteen, twenty-five and even more years since graduation will be marked. For the graduates themselves the season will always be one of the high spots in their lives. They leave the halls of a distinguished college, girded with the knowledge of their four years study to make a place for themselves in the world.

"Hail Hail to Thee, Our Mother Fair Westminster". They will sing it with feeling and reverence, with pride and pleasure for among all the institutions of higher learning in the nation, none has a prouder heritage than does Westminster.

All of us join in the hope that the coming years will surpass in numbers, in effectiveness and in honor the present Westminster college.

IT'S JUNE

That old march of Tempus seems never to be halted or turned aside. Sometimes we wish the travel were faster, but usually it is entirely too swift. It seems now, as we write it June, as if only a few days had elapsed since father time introduced us to January.

We're rather in favor of June. It may have its drawbacks, it may not be everything that everybody could desire, but, by and large, it's really the most satisfying month in the year. There's no wonder that Mr. Tennyson asked "What is so rare as a day in June?"

Brides, roses, vacation, picnics, growing crops, June peas, early cherries and new garden truck, along with perfection in homemade strawberries characterize June. It's a lazy month, too, what with mounting temperatures, cool shades that lure one from one's labor, fleecy clouds that inspire dreaming, and nights that are as near perfection as anything can be.

But we're on the last lap of the first half of 1938. After all, June has but 30 days, and, land how fast they evaporate!

We're in favor of having June made about three times as long as it now is. That's about all the improvement the sixth month of the calendar seems to need.

AT CANTIGNY, 20 YEARS AGO

A paragraph from the news of twenty years ago says that the American troops who captured the village of Cantigny withstood three determined counter attacks and inflicted heavy losses on the enemy. The reports from France also said that the British and French were full of praise for the conduct of Pershing's men in their first important offensive operation.

This anniversary has not assumed distinguished significance in the minds of the American people up to the present time, nor, for that matter, is it a day that stands out particularly in the recollections of the veterans themselves. Eventually, however, it is certain to assume proper proportion in the historic perspective of succeeding generations of Americans, because Cantigny was a day of importance and of glory.

Until then, the American Army was an unknown quantity. At home its fighting qualities were assumed, and this was true, to a lesser extent, insofar as the Allies were concerned. But they were not proved, and Germany was inclined to view scornfully the young soldiers who came from a land where there was only a minimum of emphasis upon military training and who had been hastily snatched from peaceful occupations to play a hand in the grim business of war.

Trained in the military tradition, having lived in an atmosphere charged constantly with the fear or the threat of war, Germany, somewhat naturally, dismissed scornfully the mere thought that men could be transformed from civilians into soldiers within a brief period of months.

But Cantigny dispelled all doubts. At this little village American troops demonstrated again that they have their own kind of spirit and courage and that it is of just about the same high quality in these modern times as it was at Valley Forge, at Shiloh, and Santiago. Cantigny brought hope to the Allies and despair to the Central Powers.

ANNAPOLIS—President Roosevelt gives diplomas to the graduating class of the naval academy with the jocular remark: "I want to stress one thing—in the days to come do not place too much emphasis on the word bachelor. Good luck, happy voyage, happy landings."

NORWALK, Conn.—Lily Pons, opera singer and movie star, comments on her marriage: "I shall try and be a good example as a wife."

WASHINGTON—Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia takes the administration to task on its proposed spending program with the announcement: "Social security built on overwhelming debt is like a house built on sand."

GENEVA, Switzerland—Frederick Leggett, president of the international labor office, opening the international labor conference, says: "The world's outstanding problem is poverty. For multitudes of people today, the world has become a frightening place. But this great conference indicates that it is not the will of the overwhelming majority of the world's peoples that they shall live under constant fear of destruction characterizing the life of animals in the jungle."

Owens—Do not the budding leaves, the song of the birds and warm days of returning spring fill your heart with joy?

Martin—I should say they do. You see, I own a summer hotel.

Just Another Million

WASHINGTON, June 4.

THE stage has been reached in Washington where protests against useless expenditures mean literally nothing. To point out that there is no justification for an appropriation and that the agency for which it is asked serves no good purpose makes no impression whatever. The money is voted just the same.

AN instance occurred on Tuesday, when the Senate increased by $600,000 the House appropriation for the so-called "National Emergency Council", thus bringing the annual cost of that body above the million mark. Before this action was taken the Senate was told, not by Republican, but by Democratic Senators, that "the agency's activities are not worth a ten-cent piece", and that it is impossible to furnish a "single example" of anything worth while it had done in the five years of its existence.

THOUGH Administration Senators, as in duty bound, went to the defense of the council, no convincing reason was presented either for the increased appropriation or the continued existence of the body. Nor was there any real answer to the charge that it principally functions as a campaign-propaganda unit for the New Deal. Instead, the money was given without a roll call. Another half million went out the window, and the life of a perfectly useless and quite costly bureau is extended for another year.

OF COURSE, when it is considered that the total appropriations of this Congress will approximate the incredible sum of ten billions, the single million thrown away on the National Emergency Council seems trivial. The part that isn't trivial is the frame of mind of which it is indicative, both in the executive and the legislative branches of the Government. And it isn't even trivial in the concrete when the fact is grasped that this million is but one of many relatively small and equally useless appropriations, which, combined, form a really gigantic sum, wastefully spent without valid excuse or visible results.

IT would be reasonable to think that under existing circumstances the President and Congress alike would be eager and alert to save every dollar that could be saved at this time. It would seem that, faced with the necessity of greatly increased relief appropriations and determined upon another pump-priming program, the dangers of which he himself once solemnly warned, Mr. Roosevelt today would be militantly insisting upon retrenchment in every other governmental department and agency, big and little, in order to lesson the strain of providing these great sums for relief and public works.

THAT would appear not only logical but imperative. Nevertheless it is not being done. On the contrary, the pressure for economy in the departments has been relaxed. The word retrenchment is no longer heard anywhere in the Administration. Refusing to consider any other, the President not only holds on to the most political as well as the most costly method of administering relief but even the economy gestures with which he was so prolific at the beginning of this session, are made no more. There were probably a number of Senators with friends on the N. E. C. pay roll but its increased appropriation went through not because there is any belief in the Senate as to the value of its "co-ordinating" work, nor because of any conviction that it needed more money, but solely because the additional amount had been asked for and the White House wanted it given.

IT WAS entirely typical of the complete irresponsibility of the period. It was an example of the casualness with which millions are tossed away upon the flimsiest pretexts. It demonstrates that not only the intent but the desire to economize has disappeared except among a handful of men powerless to stop the trend in an election year against an Executive with unrestricted control over vast lump sums. THE LOOKING GLASS

Within the glass I look at me
Indifferent to what I see,
Accepting with a patient air
The furrows left by time and care.

I make no swift attempt to gain
Ascendancy o'er time or pain,
For it does not occur to me
To be disturbed by what I see.

I take for granted every flaw
As if it were ordained by law,
And could not bettered be were I
Disposed to take the time to try.

But woman cannot smugly pass
Her own reflection in the glass.
With but a glance her searching eye
Discovers all that's gone awry.

She stops to give devoted care
To every straying wisp of hair,
And late or early strives that she
In every way may bettered be.

Twixt man and woman this I find,
The difference of heart and mind.
Man with himself is satisfied.
But woman scorns such foolish pride.

HINTS and DINTS

Sun sets tonight 7:24; sun rises tomorrow 4:32.

About the only time some gas stations get their names in the papers is when they get robbed. Those that advertise have to have so many people around robbers are afraid to tackle them. The one man stations get looted most.

Maybe if the pig wasn't so lazy the bacon wouldn't be so fat.

We often hear of people keeping their wedding secret for months and even years. We wonder where the kick is in keeping it a secret.

About the only thing that gives a man any comfort these days is a pair of old shoes—and they are easy to have at that.

LIFE'S LITTLE AGONIES

"My dear boy," effused the elegant lady of aristocratic demeanour, to the young pupil at the gate of the high school, "will you—ah—inform Hector Reginald Cornelius Mannington that his mother has arrived?"

"Sure, Maam," returned the boy, then facing the playing fields, he shouted, "Snifty, the old girl's blown in."

In these days of crime and murdering there is only one way to stop it and that is to send a couple of regiments of United States regular soldiers where the trouble is.

The chap who boasts that he can lick any man in the room hands down forgets that they may not keep their hands that way.

We have an idea that the depression will ease up after congress adjourns. As long as it is in session the people don't know what minute will be their next.

MORE HOWLERS

Chaos is a name for the world as a whole.

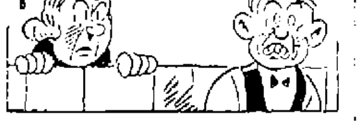
Hosiery is what carries the water to put out fires.

An autograph is the plan of a motorcar.

A handicap is one that is easy on the head.

A Wisconsin woman wants a divorce because her husband still uses the profanity he learned in the Navy during the World War. The lady doesn't know it takes more than 20 years to forget what a chief bosun's mate can call you when sufficiently irked.

Artificial respiration may revive drowning victims but it will take perspiration to bring back prosperity.



The first man had a well-defined conscience, but nobody since has known where conscience left off and fear of the neighbors began.

One-tenth of the state of Pennsylvania went dry on June 1. About five per cent of our population live in the sections voted dry. Perhaps they don't drink very much anyhow.

Did you ever stop to think how much better this world would be if people kept the promises they make. It seems that those who make the most promises and keep none of them get along the best—especially in politics.

A fellow has to be famous before he dares sign his name so nobody can read it.

Little Johnny had been taken to see his new twin brother and sister. After they left the room his father asked: "Well, Johnny, what do you think of them?"

"Gee, daddy," little Johnny replied, "I guess mamma has been bargain hunting again."

Many of us who think ourselves misfits have only ourselves to blame—we don't know what we are looking for.

"WHEN LOVELY WOMAN—"

When lovely woman wants a favor
And finds, too late, that man won't bend,
What earthly circumstance can save her
From disappointment in the end?

The only way to bring him over,
The last experiment to try,
Whether a husband or a lover,
If he have feeling is—to cry.

Wiggom—I see where a professor has discovered a hundred-foot worm. What do you think of that?

Siggs—I think the early bird getting that one would be calling for help instead of [illegible].

It was reported not long ago that ten cents admission would be charged to get into the Pymatuning Dam grounds. Then the order was rescinded. The one who made the order probably thought it a good thing to cut it out. That dam is public property and no one has a right to put an admission fee on it. Those who voted yes to get it built don't think so, anyhow.

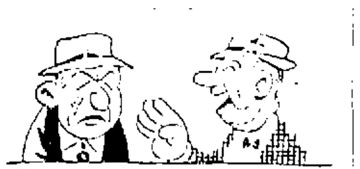
In a mad desire to cut down expenses, a man will take his wife to a $1.50 dinner and stay away from a $2 dinner, entirely forgetting that his wife will spend $2 to have her hair fixed on the day of the occasion.

So many gangmen begin thinking of their dear old mothers and fathers about 12 policemen and six bombs too late.

An hour or two of good rain will do more good for a garden than a day's work with a hoe. And the man with the hoe can sit in the dry watching the rain do the work. Ain't nature just too grand?

A COUPLE OF CHUCKLES

The little circus had come to the little town with all the ballyhoo of a big circus. Their big ballyhoo was their strong man, billboarded as "the strongest man since Sampson," who offered to prove his strength with any man in the community. It was a safe offer, for at no time did anybody in any town of the circus' itinerary ever accept the challenge especially in as much as no reward was offered. But in this little town, Ephraim Pettengill, a mild-mannered farmer, who minded his own business, was known to the community to possess prodigious strength, but which was used only in such peaceful and beneficial pursuits as pitching hay, lifting out loaded wagons that had stuck in the mire, etc. It occurred to the editor of the village Weekly that a test of strength between the strong man of the circus and their own Eph Pettengill would be a worth-while event. Acting on an editor's prerogative, without consulting Eph, he sent in the challenge stipulating the time for next day at 10 a. m. and the place at Eph's farm. Sensing the publicity value of the contest, the circus manager accepted in the name of the strong man who arrived at the appointed time and place, astride a large horse and accompanied by the circus performers and most of the village inhabitants. Eph, however, knew nothing of the arrangement in which he was to be a principal and was rather nettled at the approach of the strong man who rode across his newly furrowed field while a crowd of sight-seers stood out on the road. "What do you want, stranger?" asked Eph as he approached to meet the unwelcome visitor. The strong man of the circus turned to the crowd, waved a flourish, leaned from his saddle and lifting the unsuspecting Eph with one hand high in the air, dropped him into a furrow. Eph's anger was now aroused. He rose slowly, looked up at the man on the horse, then like a flash, lifted him from his saddle and with a swing as though he were pitching hay, sent him sailing across the patch where he landed tangled in the branches of a spreading chestnut tree. The strong man painfully let himself down and limped to the road. When he had reached a safe distance, he turned toward where the farmer stood scratching his head and wondering what it was all about. "Hey, farmer," he called, "Would you mind tossing that horse of mine over here?"



You can always recognize a health resort. The natives all say, "Hello You are looking much better."

One of the first things a father should do when he has a boy old enough is to see to it that he learns how to swim. This also holds good if he has a daughter. Knowing how to swim often saves the lives of many who cannot swim.

Maybe they call those things "hope chests" because when a girl hides something from herself and begins to search, she hopes she will find it there.

We have heard guys saying being in jail wasn't so bad, but they don't always like the publicity. Just sitting around and eating don't go bad with them.

Leona—Because she's afraid that he might believe it.

SHOULD you spend a few days visiting a friend, whether you are an only visitor in a small home or one of a group in a mansion, never have other engagements during your visit without first consulting your hostess. Of course, it is not necessary to spend all of your time by your hostess' side, but then neither should you go away on outside personal pursuits, returning only for your meals and sleeping. Courtesy demands that you first speak to your hostess about going out for a while and ask her permission to leave.

Your unannounced departure on such an occasion may disrupt some special plans she has made for your entertainment.

Congressmen Become Jittery
Are Eager To Return To Homes
Sessions Hinder Many Campaigns

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Congress, as its 1938 session has been drawing toward a close, has been probably the most jittery legislative body in recent American history.

Our lawmakers, with renomination fights and a subsequent election dead ahead, always want to get home to attend to their political fences, but maybe never before has fence repair work seemed so important to so many of them as this year.

Republicans have not been so much worried, to be sure. A Republican who survived the Democratic sweep in 1932 inclines to think that he has a sufficiently dependable G. O. P. bailiwick to return him in 1938 regardless of nearly anything or everything. He counts on renomination as a foregone conclusion and he doesn't believe he can be beaten in November. Otherwise he would have been defeated by his Democratic rival two years ago.

The Democratic legislators are the ones who have chafed as their session in Washington has dragged on into their respective home campaign seasons.

DEMOCRATS SQUIRM

And it is to be considered that congress is about 75 per cent Democratic now.

Its Republican members have chuckled pleasantly over signs of Democratic impatience at the prolongation of deliberations on Capitol Hill, but the Democratic three-quarters of the Hill's senators and representatives have squirmed with anxiety at every succeeding day's delay of adjournment.

Not only have they wanted to be at home, spell-binding; they have been uncertain how to vote while here.

RENOMINATION TROUBLE

It is true that many Democrats are sure enough of being re-elected—if they can get themselves renominated.

But renominations?

There are anti-New Deal Democrats who are afraid of the nomination of pro-New Dealers. And vice versa. And an aspirant has to be nominated before he can run in November. He can be as effectively wished out of the race at his nominating primary as he can be licked by a Republican later on. Oh, yes, a beaten primary candidate can fight as an independent if he chooses, but an independent's chance is approximately one in a million.

IN G. O. P. BAILIWICKS

Moreover, plenty of Democrats by no means feel certain of re-election even if renominated.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

IT WON'T WORK

With a bumper wheat crop in prospect and a huge grain surplus on hand from last year, growers are expected to be asked by the federal government to curtail their 1939 acreage by 37.5 per cent for the smallest planting since before the World War. This is the AAA's method of coping with the threat of a "price-depressing" surplus of between 375,000,000 and 450,000,000 bushels, which would be highest on record.

There's something wrong with this picture. On the one hand the administration talks of "one-third of the nation under-nourished". On the other it moves to curtail an important food crop which should provide bread in plenty for all and leave a surplus for other nations.

This is just one more step in New Deal tinkering with economic laws. It is not the first time in human history that man has tried such tinkering, but it is about time for the last. Such efforts have brought bitter results in the past and the plight of the nation today is testimony of their futility now.

The whole AAA program of "pig killing", "plowing under" and crop curtailment is based on fallacious theories. The laws of supply and demand may not be written in the New Deal's statute books, but they still operate—and in the realm where tinkering and regimentation just won't work.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1938 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

The new Twentieth Century Limited streamlined train, which will make its opening run to Chicago June 15, has pretty nearly everything but a swimming pool and a tennis court. And the ten new engines which will draw its various sections have "satin-finished aluminum fins, curving around the spherical front of the boiler, and aluminum-painted driving wheels."

It's a far cry—or toot—from the faithful old road hog of the Casey Jones epic to a locomotive with a satin-finished fin. When the new Diesels went piscatorial, with their stubby catfish face, that was merely what the laws of aerodynamics happened to demand, and since they were starting from scratch, nobody thought much about it.

But it is a jolt, at least in this chimney corner, to see a steam engine, the locomotive of boyhood dreams, slicked up with all this chromium and aluminum, streamlined into slender bottle shape, with no smoke-stack, and wearing a satin-finished fin instead of a cow-catcher. It is like seeing your elderly and highly esteemed maiden aunt suddenly stepping out, blondined, lacquered and calcimined, in short skirts and a cutie hat.

Most adult Americans, particularly those born in small towns, have in mind a picture of a big locomotive as the embodiment of ultimate force and majestic power; of romance, too, as it brought in the limited, with the engineer human and identifiable, waving his gauntleted hand from the cab. I think it was that gauntlet which, in my childish mind, forever linked the engineer with the D'Artagnans of the story books.

This train, doing its 960 miles in 960 minutes, won't stop at the tank towns . . . Silver lightning in the day, a flashing comet in the night, it will reveal to the boy at the whistling post more beauty, more of the abstraction of force. But will it stir in him the feeling that he, too, may some day mount and master such an unbelievable creature? That was possible when you knew the engineer. There was more of what the dramatic critics call "sympathetic identification" in those days. It is difficult in a streamlined and quickening cosmos. It is a widening cosmos, too.

Epicurus sensed a much smaller and slower universe, but at that, he said it wasn't wise to venture too far out into it. It was much better, said he, to shrink your universe down to the size of a garden which you could master and understand. One feels that way as life becomes more complex and bewildering.

Some day—perhaps it will be the Thirtieth Century Limited—a silver train may find a planetary trangent, in the Wellsian fantasy, and Chicago will be just a whistling post as it scoots off into space and ranges among the stars. We keep on branching out, or else the slow centuries will foreclose our old established firm. It seems to be written in the Book of Life.

With an unerring sense of the dramatic, resurgent Italy seeks King Solomon's lost mine, in eastern Libya. One almost hopes they won't find it. There never has been any better hay-mow literature than H. Rider Haggard's "King Solomon's Mines." It is a boyhood dream brought forward and it would be too bad to have it dissipated by having the mine discovered by a state corporation mined with compressed air drills, and becoming merely a bone for dogs to fight for, as have been the Rio Tinto mines since Solomon's day.

It is, of course, quite possible that King Solomon never had a mine. Nobody really knows whether Death Valley Scotty has one or not, and as long as the matter is in doubt there is still an aura of romance around even this paunchy figure. It isn't a good idea to foreclose on dreams too readily, even for treasure. We have treasure enough anyway, if we only knew how to use it sensibly.

Japan is sending boatloads of picture brides to Manchukuo, as it did to San Francisco for many years. Emigrants study hundreds of pictures, select their bride and put in their order. Many thousands of Japanese girls entered this country under this system, until it was ended by the immigration laws.

In California, it was usually the well-to-do Japanese who brought in the mail-order brides. Waiting at the gang plank would be perhaps a potato king, an onion king or a rice king from the Sacramento valley, and many lesser luminaries, dressed up with bright haberdashery, stiff colars and bright yellow shoes, each man holding a picture in his hand.

Down would come the usually pretty, always shy and demure little Japanese girls in their beautiful native dress. The swain would tap his bride on the shoulder, merely identifying himself, saying no more. She would make a low obeisance, and he would lead her to his automobile, frequently a big, showy limousine. They would drive to a department store, usually the Emporium.

"Give first the corset," was usually the first order. That meant that they should cinch the girl in the stiffest corset they had. It would take perhaps a couple of hours to truss up the wretched child in stiff, uncomfortable clothes, down to the highest heels in the shop. Then the coiffure had to be re-done, and topped with the gaudiest hat in the store.

The bridegroom selected every garment. Not a word was spoken by the girl. With an ecstatic smile on his sun-baked moon-face, the triumphant little Japanese would lead away his crippled and all but suffocated bride. She suffered without a murmur, but perhaps squealed a bit when they went on the escalator. As they left, she, not he, carried in a bundle her discarded bridal garments—the liquidation of centuries of the art of living.

"What do you mean, young fellow, by telling it about town that my head was made of solid ivory?"

"I'm sorry old chap, but I never used such language. I merely said that 'you carried more osseous matter above your shoulders than any other man I ever met.'"

"Well, now that's different."

"I'm afraid you'll be late at the party" remarked an elderly lady to her granddaughter. "Oh, dear, grandma," said the girl, "don't you know that in a fashionable set nobody goes to a party until everybody has got there."

Calvary Tabernacle Conference Opening

Third Annual All-Summer Bible Conference Begins Tomorrow

Pastor Raymond J. Fredericks announces that the Calvary Gospel Tabernacle which was a gift to him in the summer of 1936 for summer Bible conferences, will enter into its third annual all-summer Bible conference on Sunday, June 5, with three inspiring services.

Inasmuch as the attendance, the interest and the spiritual benefits have thus far been so beneficial to hundreds of people, a larger and better program has been prepared for this summer, Rev. Fredericks says.

All the speakers required for the months of June, July and August have been secured. A most careful and prayerful effort in the midst of great difficulties, Rev. Fredericks says, was made to obtain the services of the highest type. To many, it is being considered a privilege to have the well known evangelist, John Carrara, of New York City, back again to open the summer conference with a two weeks' campaign, Rev. Fredericks says.

Mr. Carrara comes from successful meetings in Toronto, Canada; Louisville, Ky.; Binghamton, N. Y., and Englewood, Colo.

Mr. Carrara will be heard at the tabernacle in three services Sunday, and nightly at 7:30 until Sunday, June 19. There will be piano and trumpet selections by Miss Eloise Jaycocks and John Fleck, students at the Davis Memorial Bible Institute, also a surprise feature reserved for Sunday evening. Over capacity crowds heard Evangelist Carrara here last summer.

Union Young People Sponsoring Service

Monday evening instead of their weekly prayer service the Union Young People are sponsoring the two missionaries Mr. and Mrs. John A. Duryea of the Oriental Missionary Society now appearing at the Clifton Flats Mission. This couple have just completed a tour of several European countries. The meeting Monday night is to be in the Primitive Methodist church on South Mill street at 7:30.

The special singers for the evening are to be Sam Burris, Scotch singer from Ellwood City with his daughter Mae.

Hats off to the Chinese! They don't murmur "yes sir" when Fascist leaders growl threats.

Whitsunday At Trinity Church

Elaborate Plans For Observance Of Feast Of Pentecost Tomorrow

COMMUNION AT THREE SERVICES

Tomorrow is the Feast of Pentecost, commonly called Whitsunday. Special preparations are being perfected for the observance of a day having equal rank with Christmas and Easter, because it commemorates the coming of the Holy Spirit, the third person of the Trinity. He came to carry on the ministry among people of Christ who sent him. Therefore, this day is of special meaning to Christians now, because the Spirit of Christ guides all who will listen and obey, both as individual people and as groups of people or nations.

In Trinity church at 9:30 a. m., the fifth and higher grades of the church school will assemble in the Guild room and then go up stairs to attend the greatest service of the church, the holy communion, with the junior choir singing. The rector, the Rev. Philip C. Pearson, will make a short address. Adults may receive their communions at this service as well as at 7:30 and 11 a. m.

Eleven o'clock is the hour of the principle service of the day, with special music by the senior choir which will include the anthem by Charles Gounod, "Send Out Thy Light," and the Communion Service in C by King Hall. Miss Isabel T. Johnson will play the organ at 9:30 and 11 a. m.

Being the first Sunday in the month, it will be the time for the members of the Young People's Fellowship to receive their communions. Their president, Dorothy Peifly, has arranged a special program for their meeting at 6:30 p. m.; Verna Hietsch will tell of the meeting of the Young People's Council last week-end at Grace church, Ridgway; and T. Gwyn Lewis will describe Whitsuntide customs in the British Isles, and it is expected a member of the Fellowship will tell why Whitsunday should be celebrated more largely in America.

Since 1920 special prayers have been offered to God for the unity of Christians at the suggestion of the World Conference on Faith and Order on Whitsunday. This will be done at all services in Trinity church tomorrow.

What's What At A Glance

in 1932, 1934 and 1936 (or stayed in from election to election) from normally Republican districts. There were some Democratic senators, too, who got in from normally Republican states in 1932—and who now are up for renomination and reelection.

They fear that their states or districts may revert to the G. O. P. next fall.

IN A G. O. P. STATE

Illustratively:

Iowa, an almost uninterruptedly Republican state for more than a generation, today has two Democratic senators.

The term of one of them (Guy M. Gillette) is just expiring. Fought by the New Deal for renomination he has had that embarrassment. Assuming his primary victory (if he wins) he still has a normally Republican state to fight on election day.

There are more senators in the same fix—and dozens of representatives.

YEARNING FOR HOME

These politicians simply have been bursting to get back to their constituencies—to talk to them and to do no talking or voting in Washington in the meantime.

Gosh! How they have wanted this congressional session to end!

NO VIOLENT OVERTURN

Prediction?—as to election day?

There will be some anti-administration gains.

But they will not be what the anti-administrationists have hoped for. Signs do not indicate a violent resurgence.

That's my guess.

The Great Game Of Politics

Senator—Byrd of Virginia—asserted some months ago that a hundred million dollars annually could be saved without cutting down relief or crippling a single useful governmental function. It is a conservative estimate. Yet, about to assume vast new burdens which will add to the debt and deepen the deficit, no effort is being made to save a dollar in any direction whatever—quite the reverse. It seems crazy—and it is.

Westminster Commencement Events Attracts Throng

Major Accomplishments For Westminster In Year

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, June 4.—Westminster college completes the 84th year of its history this June with several major accomplishments, including placement on the accredited list of the Association of American Universities, highest college rating group in America; completing of the $150,000 McGill Memorial library; and the receiving of a $10,000 collection of art books from the Carnegie corporation of New York.

Westminster's placement on the AAU came through improvement of library facilities; excellent records during the past few years of Westminster students in such graduate schools of Harvard, Princeton, Chicago, Carnegie Tech, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and other leading universities; and raising of athletic standards.

With the $10,000 in art books and prints, made to Westminster in April, also came official recognition from the Carnegie corporation, since the art-sets are given to only five American colleges and universities annually.

Over $750,000 In Recent Buildings

McGill Memorial library, built of Pennsylvania stone, to harmonize with the collegiate gothic structure of other campus buildings, is the third major building added in the past ten years, in a building campaign that has exceeded $750,000. The new structure, with a book capacity of 100,000 volumes, features the Ferguson reading room, student browsing room, faculty lounge, seminar rooms, Commuters' conversational room, and numerous other student features.

Athletically, Westminster completed an unusually successful season in basketball, with 15 wins and 5 defeats, playing one of the toughest schedules in recent years. The Titans placed second in district competition, being squeezed out by the Glenville teachers, who played a fairly easy season's schedule with no defeats. High spot of the season was Andy Demo's 295 points, for high in the district, and fifth in the nation.

A new coaching staff took over athletic affairs at Westminster this year, headed by Coach Grover C. Washabaugh, who came to Westminster from nine years of highly successful coaching at South high, Pittsburgh, where he coached two state championship teams in basketball. Assistant coach Babe Kelleher, former Duquesne star, handled the line-assignment during the football season, aided by Assistant coach Dave Boyd, in charge of physical education classes.

Other Achievements

Dramatics on the campus reached a climax with the Little Theatre production of "First Lady," current political satire on Washington politics. Top-ranking production were also presented in a stream-line rendition of Shakespeare's "As You Like It," and an English current melodrama, "Night Must Fall." Playing the leads were Florence Sando, Wilkinsburg, in "First Lady"; Izora Mangus, Altoona, and Joyce Beatty, Bellevue, in "As You Like It"; and William Long, Pittsburgh, in "Night Must Fall."

On May 21, Kappa Phi Lambda fraternity celebrated its seventy-fifth anniversary, in honor of its founding in 1853, making it the oldest local group in the United States. In May, also, a new ranking national fraternity, Sigma Phi Epsilon, appeared on the campus, to replace the former Theta Upsilon Omega fraternity. New SPE president is Earl Wright, Bellevue, ex-student newspaper editor, and varsity football and tennis star.

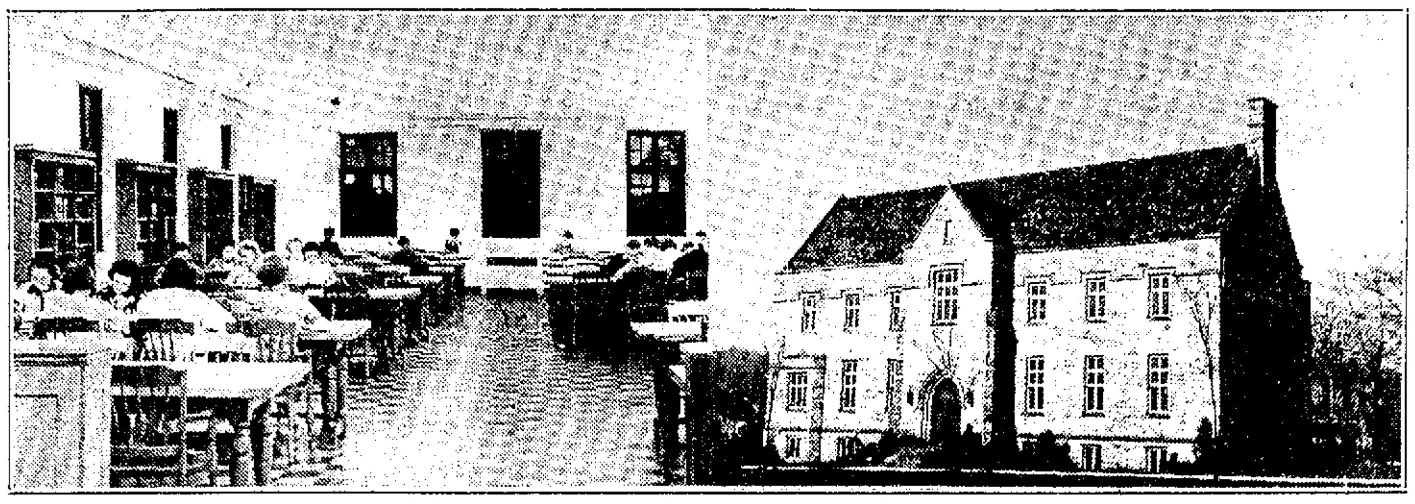
For the fifth consecutive year, the Holcad, student newspaper, won First-Class honors from the Intercollegiate Press association accrediting group, under the dual-editorship of Earl Wright and Dick Nelson, Russell.

The TKA speech-contest, with $90 in prizes, went to Jean Heinrich, Oberlin, O.; Ruth Johns, New Wilmington; and Eleanor Cowell, Wilkinsburg, for the co-eds; and Floyd Ewalt, Polk; Hal Reifer, Donora; and Paul Horn, Charleroi, for the collegians.

Lecture course high sports included Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota; Waldemar Kaempffert, New York Times science editor; Ludwin Lewisohn, author, speaking on "The Jew"; Walter Pitkin, author of "Life Begins at Forty", famous psychologist and author; Tony Sarg of marionette fame and Barclay Acheson, associate editor of Readers' Digest. Music features of the season were the Chicago Little Philharmonic orchestra; the Chamber opera company; and Jerold Frederic, pianist.

With the AAU rating, Westminster received recognition also from the American Association of University Women, with admittance into the organization's membership of Westminster graduates.

Dedicate New Westminster Library



NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., June 4.—In a triple dedication, Westminster college dedicates the new $150,000 McGill Memorial library to Rev. Ralph G. McGill, who lost his life in Egypt in 1924; and the Wallace Memorial chapel for former President W. Charles Wallace today.

Speaker for the library dedication is Dr. J. Holly Hanford, Western Reserve university, nationally known authority on John Milton, poet-author of "Paradise Lost" and "Pilgrim's Progress"; and chapel dedicator will be Rev. Stillman A. Foster, Indiana.

Speaks at Dedication

New Wilmington, June 4.—A college library is of great value to the surrounding community as well as to the student body itself, Dr. J. Holly Hanford, nationally known graduate professor of Western Reserve university, Cleveland, said this afternoon in dedicating Westminster college's new McGill Memorial library.

Dr. Hanford spoke of the importance of libraries in furnishing opportunity for American youth. He also paid a tribute to Thomas Jefferson as one of the founders of American democratic education, and Andrew Carnegie in establishing public libraries.

"Society is not a partnership in material things or for one generation only," Dr. Hanford said, in quoting Edmund Burke. "It is a partnership in all science and all art, a partnership between those who are living, those who are dead, and those who are to be born. The modern library, built by the public in a spirit of intelligent self-interest, is a symbol of this partnership."

Three Dedications Are Day's Program Features

NEW WILMINGTON, June 4.—Three dedications headlined today's activities on the Westminster campus, as the college opens its 84th annual commencement week activities.

Following an alumni dinner and business meeting this morning in the U. P. church in charge of John Miller, Pittsburgh attorney, alumni association president, the first of the dedications took place at 2 o'clock when Old Memorial chapel formally became the Wallace Memorial chapel in honor of Westminster's seventh president, Dr. W. Charles Wallace.

Dr. McElwee Ross, McKeesport, president of the board of trustees, was in charge of the memorialization, with Rev. Stillman Foster, Indiana, board member, making the dedication address, and Dr. Guy Wallace of the Braddock U. P. church offering invocation.

Honor Memory Of Dr. Wallace

Chapel At Westminster Dedicated As Memorial To Former President

REV. S. FOSTER IS CHIEF SPEAKER

NEW WILMINGTON, June 4.—The chapel of Old Main memorial, Westminster college, will officially become the Charles Wallace memorial chapel today, when it is dedicated this afternoon as a memorial to the college's seventh president, the late Dr. W. Charles Wallace.

Speaking at the chapel dedication were Rev. Stillman Foster, Indiana, a graduate of the class of 1923, with Dr. McElwee Ross, Board of Trustees presiding; and Dr. Guy Wallace, Braddock U. P. church offering the invocation.

Dr. W. Charles Wallace began his long and progressive administration in 1916, resigning because of ill-health in 1930. Under his administration, were built Old Main memorial, present administration and liberal arts building; Robert Audley Browne hall, freshman women's dormitory; and the gymnasium, buildings totally approximately $750,000 in value.

Born in Jamestown, in 1875, Dr. Wallace was educated at Jamestown academy, Geneva college, and Pennsylvania Theological seminary. Upon graduation from Geneva, to which he commuted from New Sheffield in 1899, he spent a few years in the commercial coal-business in Coraopolis to secure money for further education. He gave up his law studies, his first ambition, however, and turned to seminary work, graduating in 1904. His first church was in Nobelstown. Later, he was pastor of the First U. P. church, Braddock, from 1912 to 1916, when he was called to the presidency of Westminster.

Dr. Wallace received three honorary degrees: from Geneva, 1916; Muskingum, 1916; and Sterling college, 1918; and was district governor of the 33rd district Rotary International. He was also president of the Pennsylvania college presidents' association, the New Castle Rotary club, and the Lawrence county Boy Scout council.

During his administration, the enrollment increased from 200 to 550, and the college received A rating from the American association of universities. Dr. Wallace was largely instrumental in raising the $50,000 necessary for the addition of the chapel to the Old Main memorial building.

The dedication of the Charles Wallace memorial chapel at 2 o'clock EST, will be followed at 3 by the dedication of the new $150,000 McGill Memorial library.

B. Davis.

The Westminster singers, a 50-voice singing group, under the direction of Professor Davis, made its annual tour this year, April 20-24, presenting concerts in Houston, Mt. Soloists on this tour were Clayton Taylor, Warren, organ; Lowenne Swindler, New Wilmington, violin; Dorothy Chamberlin, East Palestine, O., soprano; Doris Munson, Massena, N. Separate engagements have taken the singers to East Palestine, O., Sharon, Mercer, Ellwood City and West Middlesex. Appearing with the singers on several concerts was the male quartet: Henry Hudson, Kittanning; Kenneth Poulton; Robert Himes, Erie, and Eugene McColgin, Apollo.

Throughout the football and basketball season, the Blue and White band played for 15 home games in addition to field drills between halves during the gridiron season, and followed the Titans on three road trips to Bethany, Thiel and Slippery Rock. Other band activities included pep meetings, special chapel services and Lantern Night, and Commencement Day, June 6.

Completely reorganized, the orchestra under the direction of Professor Cameron, will again present its full program next year.

Two vocal quartets appeared during the year: A mixed quartet composed of Dorothy Chamberlain, East Palestine, O.; Betty Campbell, Butler; Kenneth Poulton and Calvin Jolly, and the Westminster male quartet.

Three organ solos were given during the year by Professor Gordan Balch Nevin, who is also scheduled to play the annual vespers concert at 4 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, June 5.

Conservatory activities were increased by the organization of Treble Cleff, women's music club; and Orpheus, men's honorary music fraternity, organized to sponsor music programs in chapel. Treble Cleff has sponsored five student recitals, in which more than 30 music majors have participated; a recital by the conservatory faculty; and a study-session on the life of Johannes Brahms.

Orpheus, men's music group, presented a Christmas carol sing in chapel; developed a new musical background for daily chapel services; and sponsored a concert by the Wilkinsburg high school a cappella choir as a benefit for library funds.

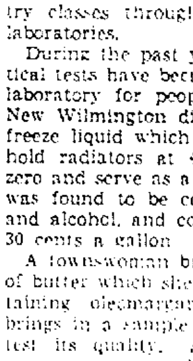
Dr. Freeman Has Nearly Fifty Years College Service

Has Been Head Of Westminster Chemistry Department Nearly Half Century

(Special To The News)



Prof. Freeman

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., June 4.—Testing the amount of cream in milk, determining the contents of horse liniment, and investigating a farmer's butter to determine if oleomargarine had been added are only a part of the Westminster chemistry department's "extracurricular activities."

For almost half a century, under the headship of Dr. Charles Freeman, the department of chemistry has acted as a testing laboratory in addition to teaching chemistry classes through classroom and laboratories.

During the past year, many practical tests have been handled by the laboratory for people living in the New Wilmington district. An anti-freeze liquid which claimed to both hold radiators at 40 degrees below zero and serve as a stomach remedy was found to be coloring, flavoring and alcohol, and could be made for 30 cents a gallon.

A townswoman brings in a pound of butter which she suspects of containing oleomargarine. A farmer brings in a sample of linseed oil to test its quality. A beauty parlor operator wants a liquid for a machineless permanent wave tested before using it on patrons' hair.

The department of chemistry laboratory never loses close touch with the outside world.

Guest Rabbi At Tifereth Israel

Special Services Planned In Celebration Of Spiritual Liberation

Congregation Tifereth Israel has invited Rabbi M. J. Elefant, a graduate from a rabbinical college of New York to officiate during the Feast of Weeks holiday services in the local synagogue.

Sunday morning at 8:30, services will begin. The topic of the sermon will be "How Can We Be Free?" On Monday morning, memorial services will begin at 9 o'clock. The topic of the sermon will be "Can the Dead Serve the Living?"

Between the gradiese holiday Passover and artistic holiday, "Shevuoth" seven weeks transpire. These seven weeks were spent in great anxiety by the newly born Jewish nation in anticipation of a very inspiring religious day. Physically the Jewish Nation was emancipated from bondage and from tortuous labor on Passover. By both miraculous and super-human means a small indigenous nation rose to unbelievable heights and was successful in entirely subduing and overcoming the power of the greatest nation of the day, the Egyptian Empire.

Every year at this time, Jews the world over assemble in synagogues decorated with all kinds of beautiful flowers and green ferns, to commemorate this occasion. And it is on this day that serious thought and deliberation is given by every whole hearted Jew to contemplate and seek ways and means to both improve their own spiritual status and that of all other people.

Police In Germany Release Gudenberg

(International News Service)

HAMBURG, June 4.—German police today released the second man wanted in New York's spy investigation, Werner Gudenberg.

The key witness, who escaped New York was a stowaway on the German Liner Hamburg, was free "after questioning," criminal police said.

At the Hamburg city hall it was said Gudenberg's present whereabouts were unknown.

Gudenberg was removed from the Hamburg immediately on its arrival here, but police would not say where he spent the night.

Gudenberg was freed even in more rapid time than Dr. Ignatz Griebl the other witness wanted in New York. Although the circumstances were almost precisely the same—both stowed away and both lacked passports—Griebl was fined and Gudenberg apparently was not.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Great Britain's Walker cup golfers, seeking their first victory in the international series begun in 1922, came off the St. Andrews, Scotland, course yesterday holding a 2 to 1 lead over the U. S. trophy defenders. Of the four American combinations, only one, that of Charley Yates of Atlanta, winner of the British amateur title last week, and Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., came through. They turned back Charles Stoew and Alex Kyle of England, 3 and 2, after holding a seven up lead at 27 holes.

Eddie (Babe) Risko and Al Quaill will be the finalists at Hockey Bowl, Pittsburgh, Monday night. They are scheduled to fight 10 rounds.

McKeesport police will hold amateur elimination boxing bouts August 1-3, for the benefit of their pension fund.

Sammy Crocetti, who once fought under the banner of Jimmie Dime, was knocked out by Joey Fontana in a featherweight bout at New York Thursday night. He lost in the third round.

DeCAPS WIN AGAIN

The DeCaprios won No. 18 yesterday by defeating the Fords 7 to 5. The game was played at the Viaduct field. It was a tough battle. A. Lamorella was in rare form and allowed but five hits. It was his 12th victory of the year. Tommy Morella is manager of the DeCaps.

Pirates Tame Giants 6 To 5

Bobby Klinger Outpitches Gumbert, Indians Defeat Macks, Keltner Homers

SENATORS HAND DEFEAT TO SOX

By ANTHONY J. PUGLIESE
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 4.—Lessening the sting of Dizzy Dean's absence from the lineup, Big Bill Lee today is almost single-handedly pitching the Chicago Cubs to even footing with the league leading New York Giants in the National loop.

Lee's story this season is rather amazing. Winner of 14 as against 15 losses last year, Lee was dogged by arm trouble all through the spring training season.

Lee Wins Fourth.

Lee yesterday hurled his fourth shutout in five games by holding the Bees to three hits, winning for the Cubs, 4 to 0. In pitching the Cubs to within a game and a half of the Giants, Lee out-pitched Lou Fette and ran his remarkable hurling record to a mark of one run in the last 46 innings.

The Giants lost their fourth straight game, going down before the Pirates, 6 to 5. The Pirates, behind Bobby Klinger's eight-hit pitching, scored six in the second inning and were never headed. Harry Gumbert suffered his fourth defeat of the year.

Pirates Win.

The Pirates stepped into fourth place, replacing the Reds, who lost to the Dodgers 5 to 4. Singles by Cookie Lavagetto and Dolph Camilli drove in the winning runs to give Bill Posedel, who had relieved Van Mungo, his second victory.

The Cardinals took an 11-inning 8 to 7 decision from the Phillies. Enos Slaughter and Don Padgett homered for the Cards, while Chuck Klein hit a four-sacker for Philadelphia.

Keltner Homers.

Johnny Allen won his seventh game by pitching the Indians to a 10 to 5 decision over the Athletics. Ken Keltner, the tribe's rookie, hit his ninth homer, while Sam Chapman and Frank Hayes homered for Philadelphia.

The Yankees kept up the pace, two and a half games back of the Indians by trouncing the Tigers, 5 to 1. Charley Ruffing, who pitched seven-hit ball, won his seventh straight, while Joe DiMaggio came out of a batting slump with his seventh homer and a single. George Gill and George Coffman yielded eight hits to the Yanks.

The Senators handed the White Sox their ninth straight defeat, 5 to 1, behind the hix-hit pitching of Wes Ferrell, who chalked up his eighth victory. Al Simmons hit a homer amid the Washington eight-hit attack.

The Browns and Red Sox were washed out in Boston.

Franklyn "Frub" Crisci, president of the City Softball league, today announced that Gabby DeCaprio's one-day suspension has been lifted and that the captain of the Nobals team will be eligible to play Monday night in the regular scheduled game.

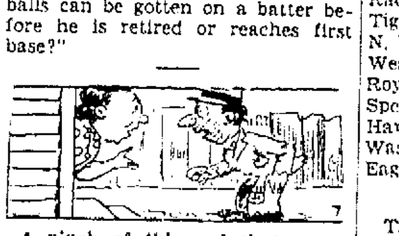
Rambling Around World Of Sports

Brief notes about big leaguers: . . . Clydell Castleman, whose fine showing upon returning to the knoll was a bright spot of the Giants' western jaunt, got his first pro baseball job through Charlie Dressen, then Nashville manager . . . should Clay Bryant, Cub pitching ace, go bad on the mound, he will still have a lot of baseball days ahead of him . . . five years ago he was an outfield star instead of a chucker, clipping the pellet for a cool .387 in 78 games as a Middle-Atlantic league outfielder with Zanesville . . . he also cracked out 12 homers . . . one day, he bunched three homers and two singles against Dayton . . . the Cincy Reds don't get a raw deal from any laundry organizations when it comes time to clean the uniforms . . . Pitcher Peaches Davis runs the leading dry-cleaning establishment of Duncan, Okla., during the winter and makes sure the Redlegs don't get "gipped" . . . the recent Joe Cronin-Jake Powell shin-dig was a renewal of a feud which dates back to the days when the two were members of the Washington Senators.

Figure it out for yourself . . . How many strikes and balls can a pitcher get on a batter before he is retired or reaches first base? The answer is 10, but a lot of you won't believe it without the explanation which is very simple. It's the problem of Ken Weafer, pitcher for the Albany Senators of the Eastern league, so we'll give you his answer A batter may have three balls and two strikes on him when the side is retired by a runner attempting to steal a base. That batter, of course, is the first man up in the next inning. He again works the count to three balls and two strikes. Add that five to the five he had the previous inning and simple arithmetic gives you ten. The next call may be a third strike or a fourth ball, which makes 11, but the question was "how many strikes and balls can be gotten on a batter before he is retired or reaches first base?"



A pinch of this and that . . . Brooklyn Dodgers will inaugurate night baseball at Ebbets field, June 15, battling the Cincinnati Reds . . . the Dodgs will play about seven games . . . the ligthing system is supposed to be the best in the world, according to Larry MacPhail, vice president . . . the Ross-Armstrong massacre drew 28,290 persons . . . the gross amounted to $160,-360.64. Ross got $47,000 for absorbing those 10,000 punches while Henry drew down about $72,000 for dishing it out . . . despite the fact that the Phillies are the cellar dwellers, practically every team in the league would like to own Passeau and Walters . . . Ival Goodman leading the home run derby in the big league, also leads the club in being hit by pitched balls . . . critics believe the coming Louis-Schmeling bout will gross the charmed "cool million" mark. . . . Gene Tunney has already purchased his tickets for the shin-dig . . . it is claimed that close to 90 per cent of all fights are on the "upity up" . . . Joe DiMaggio, who started out like a house afire, is slumping these days and how the fans let him know about it . . . Buck Newsome, Brown hurler, has seen more action during the past eight or nine days than any chucker we know.

Marvin Ward Sets Record

Olympia, Washington Walker Cup Player Shoots 67 Round In Match

EQUALS RECORD OF BOBBY JONES

By THOMAS C. WATSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, June 4. Shattering Bobby Jones' eight-year-old course record and equalling the professional low-score with an amazing 67, 25-year-old Marvin Ward of Olympia, Wash., made golfing history today as the United States struggled for its tenth consecutive possession of the Walker cup.

Ward, semi-finalist in the national amateur championship last year, was able by his spectacular feat to lead Frank Pennink of England 9 up at the end of the first 18 holes.

It was a day of sensations, for only a little earlier, Dour Hector Thomson of Scotland had equalled Jones' amateur record with a 68, at the same time putting Johnny Goodman of Omaha 6 down at the 18th.

Drives 350 Yards.

Young Ward played an amazing game, driving a full 350 yards from the tee at the first hole and recovering from a bad lie for a par 4. From that point on he never had any real difficulties, carding the first nine in four under par figures and the second in two less than perfection.

The youthful holder of many western records thus virtually assured the United States of one victory in the singles to even up for the 2-1 lead Britain gained in the foursomes yesterday.

Seemingly unbeatable also, save for an unexpected upset, was Charlie Yates of Atlanta, who was 3 up on Jim Buren, the Irish prodigy, at lunch-time.

Other 18-hole standings:

Charles Kocsis of Detroit, 1 down to Charles Stowe, England.

Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, 1 up on Cecil Ewing, Ireland.

Reynolds Smith of Dallas, 3 down to Gordon Peters, Scotland.

Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati, 4 down to Leonard Crawley, England.

Fred Haas, Jr., of New Orleans, 1 down to Alex Kyle, Scotland.

TWO GAMES FOR BEARS SUNDAY

The strong Wabash Bears will play a twin bill Sunday, June 5. The first game is scheduled to begin at 1:30 o'clock with the Hawaiian A. C. team.

The second game is with the N. Y. A. team of the city league. Both games will be played at the Liberty street field. Any teams seeking games with the Bears should contact William Dominick, 102 North Liberty street.

SYRIAN RAYS WIN GAME

The Syrian Rays team won from the S. S. Ramblers at the Clifton Flats field, 10 to 4, in a softball game. The winning pitcher was Sammy Albert and the losing hurler was Mosell. Nick Albert, with three homers, was the feature hitter of the game.

JOY GARDENS WIN

The Joy Gardens softball team handed the Pintabone A. C. a 6 to 3 defeat at Dean Park field last night. R. Nelson did the pitching for the Gardens and allowed but three hits. H. Micco and J. Memo were the heavy hitters for the winners.

Mahoning Nine Tops Elks, 7-6

Bunching most of their hits in one inning, the Mahoning A. A. Reserve baseball team surprised the sporting world by nosing out the Colored Elks, 7-6, Friday night on the Lawrence Indies field.

Melchorie was the hitting star, smashing a long double with Pelosi on first, dead-locking the count. Pitcher Lauro won his own by plastering out a timely single scoring the winning run. Young was the best bet for the losers.

Score by innings:

		R	H	E
M. A. A.	051 10—	7	8	2
Elks	060 00—	6	11	5

Batteries: M. A. A.:Lauro and Pisano: Elks: Rankin, Clark and Jones.

British Win Walker Cup

First Time In Almost Two Decades That British Have Won Coveted Walker Cup

By THOMAS C. WATSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, June 4.—In an upset destined for a place in history as long as golf is talked or played, Great Britain today for the first time in almost two decades won the Walker cup, emblem of international links sovereignty.

Never before had a British team taken this coveted trophy out of American hands. For nine bi-annual meetings, Yankee golfers had proved themselves unbeatable, sometimes, as in 1934, shutting the English out without a score.

Valient Effort

There were brilliant efforts made by the lads from across the sea to overcome the monumental hazards of St. Andrews. Marvin Ward of Olympia, Washington, broke the 8-year-old amateur course record of Bobby Jones and equalled the professional mark of 67.

Johnny Fischer came from behind to beat Leonard Crawley 3 and 2 after his cause had been given up for lost.

Charlie Yates made good the skill he showed when he won the amateur last week by downing the Irish prodigy Jim Bruen.

Pike grow tall in Minnesota

NORTHERN PIKE

Mention of Northern Pike brings to mind the invigorating pine-cone country, where lily buds bob on wilderness waves and burnished yellow blossoms reflect the summer sun.

For here is the home of the celebrated spotted rascals, who annually delight a host of happy vacationists through the northern United States and Canada.

Some anglers claim the northern pike is not a scrapping fish. We violently disagree. Naturally in the warm mid-summer waters of Michigan and Minnesota he is sluggish at times. But in the spring and fall in cold lakes, he rivals the bass in dynamic action.

Northern pike will take both plugs and spoons and are susceptible to chubs and shiners. They love the pads and rushes, and lie quietly in them waiting for minnows and small fry.

Cast at the edge of the green and retrieve slowly for best results. Vary the retrieve with short jerks to prevent short strikes and mere follow-ups. Nothing is harder on the blood pressure than to see a spotted monster follow the lure and then turn away without striking.

Granddaddy pike lurk in the least accessible places. The deeper one gets into the lily meadows the better his chances are of tying into a real tackle-smasher?

If you are fortunate enough to hook a good northern this summer, don't "horse around" with him at the side of the boat. Remember that these fish have powerful jaws and needle-point fangs, and their favorite trick is to saw a line and flip farewell with a froth of foam.

Today's Tip

Panfish provide real sport when they are caught on a fly-rod. For bluegills, sunfish, crappies and rock bass, a nine-foot six-ounce split bamboo rod is tops.

Rod Records

The world's record great northern pike was caught in 1932 at Basswood lake, Minnesota by John V. Schanken. It weighed more than 45 pounds!

Killed Girl, 6

Lindberg Heist
". . . must have been out of my head"

"I did it, I did it! But I must have been out of my head." Police say that Lindberg Heist, 15-year-old Cincinnati, O., newsboy, muttered that confession in the slaying of six-year-old Shirley Ann Woodburn, found stabbed to death in the woods near her home. It was believed that Heist probably would be turned over to the juvenile court first, but, if that court elected not to handle the case, it would be placed before a grand jury.

Stock Market Rallies Today

Passage Of Lending And Spending Bill Brings Brisk Rally In Market

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, June 4.—Passage of President Roosevelt's spending-lending bill by the senate brought a brisk rally in the stock market today, leaders climbing one to more than two points.

The market was quiet and steady at the opening, but started upward almost immediately. Volume picked up as the advance gained momentum. Leaders resisted profit-taking efforts in final transactions, and closing prices in most instances were near the day's tops.

Steels, chemicals, mail orders, motors, gold shares, aviations and assorted blue-chips chalked up the largest gains. Advances in utilities and rails were of smaller proportions.

At the day's best levels, Westinghouse, International Harvester, Allied Chemical, DuPont, Bethlehem and U. S. Steel each were up two or more points.

Whitsuntide holidays, including Monday, close the London Stock Exchange until Tuesday. All foreign cotton markets, except Bombay, also will be closed on Monday.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

SHADE ON THE RANGE—COMFORT TO PULLETS

Well distributed shade is important for pullets on range. Since the birds have a tendency to congregate in shady places during the heat of the day, the ground will become badly contaminated if too many birds use it.

It is essential to have numerous small shade locations so that the birds will be better distributed over the range. If the shade is not too dense sunshine will reach most of the ground some time during the day. This dries and sterilizes the soil and aids in preventing filthy spots from developing. Pullets like to crowd under brush piles, but the ground soon becomes covered with droppings and unsanitary for the birds.

Where this condition exists, the dense bushes should be thinned and the lower branches of the trees removed to permit the rays of the sun to penetrate to the ground. When this is done, the pullets will spread themselves over larger areas.

On farms having strip farming, a combination of shade and grass is provided. With the colony houses or range shelters placed on the grass, the chickens will have the corn for shade. Wheat or oats in nearby strips will be eaten by the pullets as the grain ripens, reducing the amount of feed that must be carried to the range.

Birds that have been ranging regularly in wheat or oats will suffer no ill effects from the new grain as long as they have access to satisfactory amounts of mash and other grains. The pullets will eat their regular ration before starting on the standing stalks.

LEVEL CULTIVATION BETTER THAN RIDGING OR HILLING

Careless and improper cultivation is often the cause of damage to garden crops. Everyone should consider carefully the rooting habits of various vegetables and the effect that cultivation may have on them.

Spinach, lettuce, radishes, onions, endive, beets, carrots and similar vegetables grow rapidly and mature quickly. All are shallow rooted and most of them have fibrous root systems. Practically the entire rooting system is in the top foot of soil, and three-fourths of the roots are found in the spaded or plowed layer which is loose and contains the fertilizer. Because of this, level culture and shallow cultivation which does much good and no damage should be practiced.

Deep cultivation close to the row destroys many surface roots and ridging against the row exposes the surface roots between the rows.

If cabbage, tomatoes, peppers, eggplants, and similar crops have been set deeply enough, hilling is unnecessary. Level, shallow cultivation is equally important for these crops. The surface roots are exposed when the soil is removed from the middle area between the rows. Ridging or hilling makes the surface irregular, causing uneven distribution of moisture. It involves extra labor.

Under ordinary conditions, cultivating once a week is sufficient to control weeds and maintain a shallow mulch on the surface. For the small home garden, a square-bladed hoe is the best tool for cultivation. For larger areas a modern wheel hoe or cultivator equipped with hoe blades, sometimes called sweeps, produces a perfect mulch about an inch deep and cuts off all small weeds which cultivator teeth will not.

SOUNDS CAUTION IN IRONING OF RAYON

A too hot iron will melt and ruin an acetate rayon. Acetone, which is present in liquid nail polish remover and some dry cleaning agents, will dissolve an acetate rayon into holes.

WARNS RASPBERRY GROWERS TO SPRAY

The weather conditions during the last few weeks have been very favorable for the development of fungus diseases.

Raspberry growers should watch out for anthracnose. This disease, if left unchecked, will cause considerable damage. It attacks the stems, leaves and berries.

Anthracnose is one of the easiest diseases to control if plants are properly sprayed. For summer spraying, use liquid lime-sulphur testing 1.006 specific gravity, or approximately two gallons of concentrated lime-sulphur in 100 gallons of water. Three pounds of wheat flour or one pound of casein should be added to each 100 gallons as a sticker.

More detailed information on raspberry diseases may be obtained at the office of the County Agricultural Extension Association, 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

ROOSTING SPACE IS NEEDED BY PULLETS

Do you have plenty of roosting space for your pullets? If not, arrangements should be made at once to take care of the requirements.

Leghorns should be roosting at five to six weeks of age and heavy breeds at six to eight weeks. Unless birds are roosting, they have a tendency to crowd in the corners. Quite often some are smothered and others stunted, the litter becomes wet and filthy, and an outbreak of coccidiosis may follow.

The birds should be placed on the roosts the first night they are in the range shelters after being moved from the brooder houses. Usually they will go on the roosts of their own accord the second night. However, if they sleep on the floor the first night, they will be harder to train. As the birds grow, they will require more roosting space.

HELP THE CHILDREN TO SHARE RESPONSIBILITY

Children may find real joy in daily vacation tasks if they can have a share in making the household plans, says Miss Julia Markle, home economics extension representative of Lawrence county.

Gone is the day when the mother does everything. Working partnerships can be formed with the young members of the family, being sure that they have an understanding of the situation and a share in the planning.

If there are several children in the family it is easier than if there is only one, since the children may take turns with dish washing, dusting and bed making. It is well for boys as well as girls to share in these responsibilities when possible and they should never be made to feel that such tasks are feminine. Helping around the house is a real advantage to the young boy who goes to camp, advises Miss Markle.

Perhaps it is well to permit children to let down completely the first week after school closes. No special work or recreation should be planned. Everyone should just relax and rest. A week of idleness is plenty and the children themselves will feel the need of an ordered existence.

When children make their own rules and schedules they usually work out most satisfactorily. There should be definite hours for arising and for going to bed just as there are during school days, since regularity is one of the rules of health. Bedtime may be a little later during vacation days.

Children's free time should be theirs to use as they plan and should not be filled with extra chores at a last minute's notice. This may happen occasionally but should not be made a practice.

Other duties with which children might assist include emptying waste baskets, shaking small rugs, watering plants, arranging flowers, and answering the phone. Caring for the lawn and garden is a summertime chore for the older children.

Young helpers enjoy system and there is no surer way of securing cooperation, believes Miss Markle, than to have a definite plan. Children will reap a great deal of benefit from such a spirit of cooperation and vacation days will be turned into days of joy as well as days of accomplishment.

Monday evening at 5:45 o'clock in the Elks club, North Mill street, members of the New Castle Exchange Club will nominate officers for the ensuing year when they gather for their dinner meeting.

W. P. A. Has Display In Public Library Building

The WPA recreation and education divisions have a fine display placed in the library show casements of work done along that line. It is a handicraft display of the work accomplished in the recreation and education centers here and also of the type that will be taught to the local playground goers this summer.

Each leader, who has specialized in one form of artcraft, will have a display of his special type of work, shown in the library. Specialization in one form has been taught to all the leaders in daily morning classes for the past several weeks and each teacher is now fully equipped to demonstrate his ability in the different styles of artcraft, such as clay modeling, woodburning, woodcarving and handicraft.

The display for the next few days is a clay modeling one, taught by William Ayers, which gives an example of the type of work being finished in the centers. There are exhibits of hand designed carving and finger formed models, or molds, with original designs; some made by students just eight and nine years of age. After the object is made to the desired plan and cut from the plaster, or formed from the clay mold, the plaque is then smoothed carefully and painted.

Shown in the case are baskets and pottery from clay and plaster of paris, wall hangings of plaques of pictures of grouped flowers, varied shaped ash trays, bowls, and lastly, different comic paper, movie and stage and radio caricatures, such as Popeye, the Dwarfs/and others.

Soon there will be many other types of work shown, among which will be handicraft of baskets woven from serpentine, and sponge types; wood carved furniture, of brackets, chairs, stands, small tables and book ends; also woodburning.

AROUND CITY HALL

Only six violators of traffic regulations appeared in traffic court yesterday. All were discharged, the offenders having convinced Mayor Charles E. McGrath that they had unknowingly violated the parking meter ordinance.

Police eyes were focused on two young pigeons which perched astride an East Street telephone wire from 10 a. m. until late yesterday afternoon. Apparently Mother Pigeon had booted the pair out of their nests.

Lines being painted for traffic purposes this spring are wider than those painted in former years. Throughout yesterday the trio of brushmen worked in East Washington street marking off pedestrian lanes.

Police activities here recently have been quite dull. Some petty robberies have been reported. No serious auto accidents have occurred. Two suicides happened but on the whole police business has been drab.

PRIVATE AND PERSONAL
BE WISE—PERSONALIZE
How can a loan be really personal and private if you have to go around asking friends and relatives to co-sign or endorse your note? Here you can be sure of strict privacy in every way. You don't have to get co-makers.
★Our main requirement is just your ability to repay small regular amounts.
The whole purpose of Personal's loan service is to lend money to people who don't have the security required elsewhere.
Unexpected demands hit everybody at some time. When you need cash quickly—come in, and talk it over in a private consultation room. You won't be asking us a favor—we'll appreciate your calling.
